EXPERIENCE

Co.Lab.io

Front-end Developer

December 2022 - February 2023, Remote

- Collaborated with cross-functional team members, including product managers, designers, and back-end developers, to develop and deliver a post-surgery recovery and follow-up PWA app using React, Redux, and Tailwindcss
- Successfully integrated APIs using Axios to fetch and send data to the backend, resulting in an optimized application with an average page load time of 1.8 seconds
- Utilized performance metrics such as Google's Lighthouse score to ensure a responsive and user-friendly interface, achieving a score of 90+ for accessibility, best practices, and SEO
- Identified and resolved technical issues during the development and testing phases, resulting in a stable application with a 99.99% uptime and no reported bugs.

MICROVERSE

Technical Support Engineer (Code Reviewer)

April 2022 - Present, Remote

- Provided quality checks by giving detailed code reviews on more than 900 technical projects within a cross-functional team in order to optimize the code review process in an all-remote, global startup
- Assessed code clarity, style, and best practices on project PRs
- Tested API integrations for 200+ React capstone projects

HIGHLIGHTED
